HOUSING AND MEALS

Located on the Celio hill and completely renovated in 2017, the Villa boasts 21 bedrooms and plenty of spaces for social activities. Sleeping areas are divided into nine suites; each suite is comprised of one or two bedrooms and a large, shared bathroom with multiple sinks, showers and toilets. Each floor is equipped with a handicapped-accessible bathroom, located in one of the bathroom units. Each student is assigned a loft bed, complete with wardrobe with two drawers and a desk with two drawers and bookshelves. Other shared areas include a large kitchen with attached pantry as well as indoor and outdoor dining; a laundry room with three washing machines, three dryers and one ironing station; and two main storage spaces for suitcases. The Celio area, where the ND Villa is located, has the highest percentage of publicly accessible green space in the historic center, including the lovely gardens of the Villa Celimontana. The Villa has a history as an educational facility: when Italy's racial laws during fascism led to the eviction of Jewish children from the Italian schools in 1938, the Jewish Community of Rome used it as a school.
