Notre Dame International offers a four-week workplace engagement/internship program in Beijing, China. The Global Professional Experience program allows students to learn firsthand, through unpaid internship positions, how businesses operate in China.

This program includes two main components:

- A one credit course that both introduces the major economic and social issues that are shaping contemporary China and also provides a classroom setting for discussing professional experiences. The course will be taught at the Beijing Global Gateway located in Beijing’s Third Embassy District.

- A workplace placement within a business or organization in Beijing that will provide students with professional experiences related to their academic and professional interests. Host businesses and organizations include media, law, technology, and finance, among other sectors. Placements may include China’s largest law firms (e.g., Jun He), influential media companies (e.g., Caixin), and multi-nationals such as IBM, BMW, and Xiao Mi, one of China’s largest tech companies.
